

Mark Koza
Business Manager for Serum, Corning Life Sciences

Mark Koza is the Business Manager for Serum at Corning Life Sciences. Mark has global responsibility for the serum portfolio including wholesale raw serum, OEM serum, and Corning branded retail serum. He has held multiple roles at Corning Life Sciences during his 20-year career including Territory Sales Manager, District Manager, and most recently North America/EMEA Serum Business Development Manager. Mark holds a bachelor's degree in Microbiology from The University of Maine and has been a member of the ISIA Traceability Team since August of 2020.

He resides with his wife and two children in the Seacoast region of New Hampshire.