

James Dunster
Chief Executive Officer, Moregate Biotech

James Dunster is currently the CEO of Moregate Biotech which has operations in Australia and New Zealand. James is a Kiwi who moved to Melbourne in 1988 and joined Moregate after starting to work for Elizabeth Meixner. Moregate was founded in Australia by Elizabeth in 1975 and not long after opened in NZ, producing, and selling raw FBS from both countries. In 1998, the company HQ relocated to Brisbane where Elizabeth and James continued developing its sterile serum business.

James helped Elizabeth as General Manager as the company continued to grow in response to increasing customer demand. James became CEO in 2018 and continues in that role following the purchase of the company by ANZCO Foods in 2022.

Moregate is a founder member of the ISIA, with James attending the 2006 AGM in Pasadena and in 2008 Elizabeth followed Leland Foster as the second Chairman and has been a BOD member continuously since then.
